Ein Krokodil taucht ab (und ich hinterher)

A Crocodile Takes a Dive (and I Follow)

Down the loo? Paul's weird and wonderful journey to the depths of the sewage system

What do you do when your best friend is flushed down the toilet? For Paul the answer is perfectly clear – he will have to climb down into the sewage system to rescue him. And that's not such an easy job because the friend in question is the Mississippi alligator Orinoco. To his great astonishment, Paul meets a whole gang of children who live down there. Can it really be better living there than at home?

An enchanting children's adventure and a tumultuous story about family and friendship.
