Room for Love 1. Two in a Room

Room for Love 1. Two in a Room

Laura Labas (Written by), Moon Notes (Edited by)

It all begins when 20-year-old New York Maths student Shiloh stops on her way to uni to help a cyclist who has fallen off his bike. By way of thanks, Miles invites her to a fancy hotel in Brooklyn, where he's going to propose to his girlfriend. Perpetually skint Shiloh can't resist the offer of a free high-end buffet. But Miles is unceremoniously dumped by his girlfriend, so rounds off his evening with Shiloh. It would be silly not to use the honeymoon suite, wouldn't it? The couple - who both have their problems with their parents, despite being otherwise very different - go their separate ways. But fortunately fate and the city of New York still have their roles to play ...

- Fast-paced, funny, and warm-hearted.
- Irresistible romantic comedy by hit author Laura Labas.
- Perfect for fans of Ava Reed, Colleen Hoover and New Girl.

Laura Labas

Laura Labas was born in 1991 in the imperial city of Aachen and lost herself in the written word at an early age. She enjoyed developing her own fantastic stories, which she shared with her friends, but it took a few more years before she finished her first novel at the age of fourteen. By then, at the latest, she knew exactly what she wanted to do for the rest of her life: create new worlds. Today, she still writes with the greatest enthusiasm as well as love, diving enthusiastically into fantasy, drama and, of course, romance. In her spare time, she loves to be inspired by K-dramas and sing along loudly with her favourite artists B.I, iKON and Seventeen.
