Unfold, look, read, measure, hang!

*All the animals think they're tall –
Even those that are very small.
But none of them's as tall by half
As the tree-top touching, giant giraffe.*

What about you? Are you as tall as a mouse, or a sheep, or a bear?
The concertina growth chart will tell you, and it will go on telling you until you are fully grown.

You think we mice are only small.
You'll be surprised. I'm really tall.
High in the air I lift my nose
To smell the flower – sweet as a rose!

Page 2

Mice are tiny. Raccoons like me
Are ten times taller. Can't you see?
When hind legs are as big as mine,
You'll reach the washing on the line!

Page 3

Baaa! Baaa! Baaa! You silly buffoon,
We sheep are bigger than any raccoon.
If I want to, I can easily push
My nose to the top of the blackberry bush.

Page 4

You call that tall? Then look at me!
Bears can reach into a tree!
The buzzing bees don't think it's funny,
Because that's how we steal their honey!

Page 5

You tiny creatures must agree
That none of you are as big as me.
You think you're tall? Don't make me laugh!
No one's taller than a giraffe!

At us animals you've had a look.
Now learn to measure from the book.
Turn it, and when you've got that far,
Just let us know how tall you are.
